

Yami[®] yogurt

lowfat gelatin-free yogurt

To your health!

- Gelatin-free
- Gluten-free
- Lactose-free—the natural enzyme lactase removes lactose from our all-dairy yogurt, allowing us to reduce added sugars
- Live probiotic cultures replenish good bacteria in your digestive system
- Sweetened with natural sugar—never high fructose corn syrup
- Convenient single-serving cups in 4 oz and 8 oz

Single servings that are double delicious!

A Pacific Northwest natural

The unmistakably fresh taste you expect from Yami yogurt begins with sweet Grade A milk from small, local farms, and no antibiotics or artificial growth hormones. For added flavor Yami relies on rich fruit purees—no seeds or chunks, real juice, and natural flavors.

Serve Yami with pride for everything it is...and is not!

In its creamy, smooth, delicious yogurt, Yami delivers live probiotic cultures that befriend digestive systems, creating a nurturing environment for naturally good bacteria to flourish. This is good news for everyone.

But Yami may be most remarkable for what it does not have. It has no gelatin...none, period. It is gluten-free. You will find no high fructose corn syrup, no artificial flavors or colors. And thanks to a new, natural process, it is also lactose-free!

Lactose-free yogurt does sound like an unlikely possibility...it is made from milk, after all. But we have led the way by using the natural enzyme lactase to remove lactose from our yogurt, and we are thrilled to tell you that this has reduced the sugars—and calories—in our recipe. Less sugar is good for everyone, and lactose-sensitive people get the added bonus of easy digestibility.

Convenient cup sizes

Yami Yogurt is a healthful food for any time of day—a smart choice for meals, snacks or desserts. The most popular flavors are available in our quick and easy mini 4-oz. size, and also in the more substantial 8-oz containers. These single-serving cups are ideal for schools, airlines, hospitals, deli counters, vending machines and caterers. It's an easy choice, since Yami leads to happy customers, every time.
